THE SEARCH OF YOUTH

Today there are many things that our youth have to try to understand about our society, government, and our affairs in the world. We look for an answer to the Vietnam War. We have to decide whether or not to support the Women's Liberation movement. We search for moral and ethical maturity and we search for a career that appeals to us. We search for civil rights. We search for answers to pollution; to make our world better for future generations. We search for answers to revolts on our American college campuses. We search for an answer to the war in the Middle East. We look toward the future for the growth of our population. We search for an answer to inflation and urban decay.

We have to learn answers to our questions. In school we learn about the world of today and yesterday. We also look into the future. Our times are unsettled and there are many changes which we will have to face as future leaders of our community.

We learn from the people at school, the administrators, the teachers, and also our classmates. We gather information from our whole environment. The youth are searching for answers and here at DCHS, the administrators, teachers, and our classmates are trying to help us.

DEDICATION

Words seem a poor way to express the respect and appreciation we feel for Mrs. Schlueter, who has worked as our class sponsor for four years. She has been consistent in her desire and efforts to make our years at DCHS both profitable and happy.

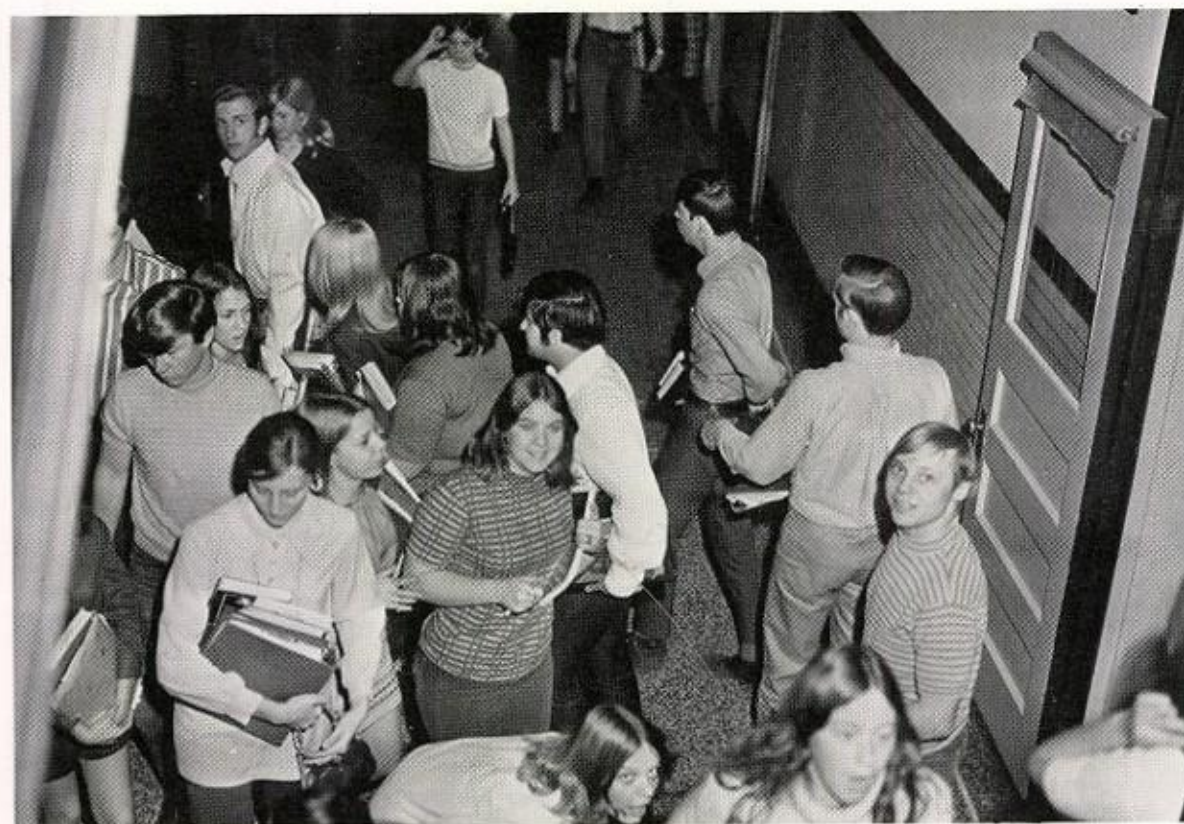

To you, Mrs. Schlueter, the class of 1971 proudly dedicates the "1971 El Tigre."

be acquired if they and others are to work and live comfortably in the world.

DCHS offers a variety of courses some for college-bound students, and some for students whose formal education will terminate after graduation.

Many DCHS graduates enter the business world or a trade upon graduation.

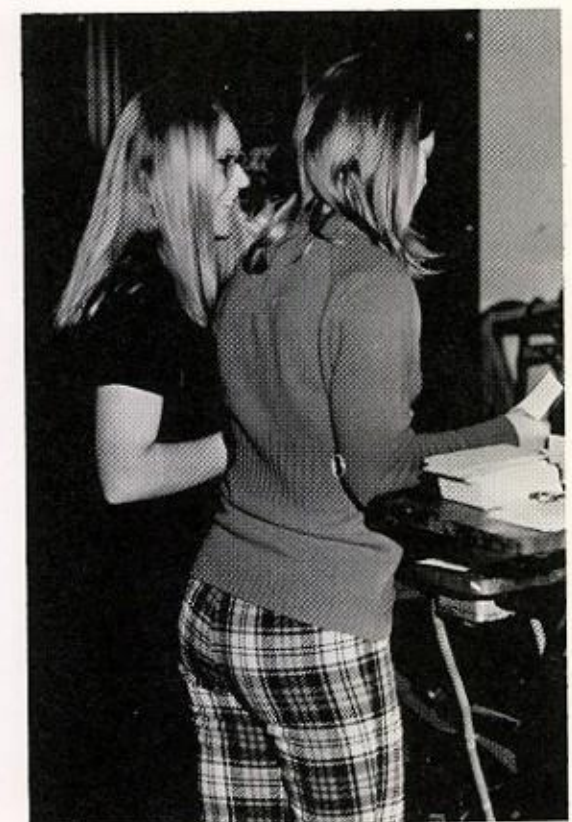

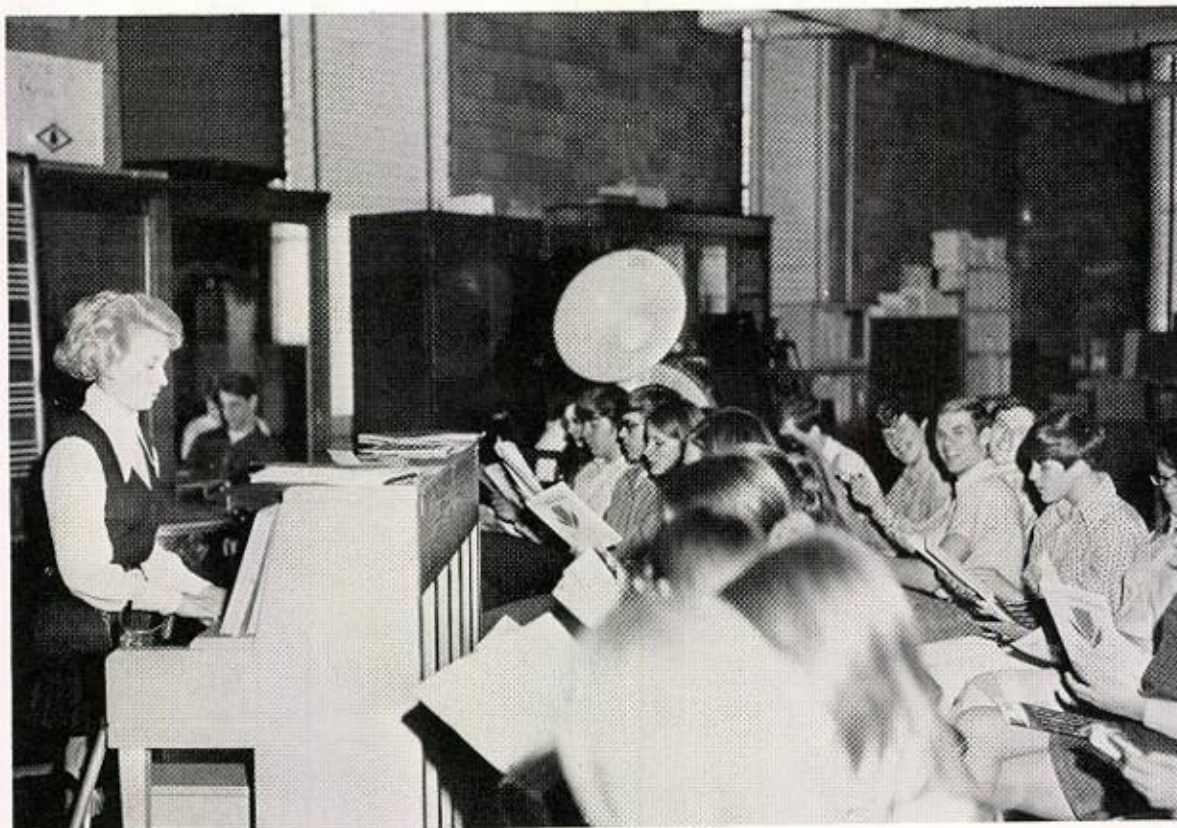

Time passes quickly when students take an interest in the organizations that make up the extra-curricular activity program at DCHS. Activities are helpful as well as entertaining. They give training in the wise use of leisure and they provide practice in self-government, allow leaders to practice leadership, and provide adequate socialization. Twenty-two organizations hold regularly scheduled meetings at DCHS. Students hope to find answers to questions through cooperation and participation in these active organizations.

Classes, homework, and exams are not the only things that make up the school year. Activities that take place outside the classroom add color and interest to the life of a DCHS student.

The Homecoming Dance, Winter Carnival, Prom, plays, concerts, sports events and class parties are some of the events that make school life more enjoyable.

SPORTS

The sports program is an important part of high school life. The teamwork that goes into the participation in sports helps everyone to learn to get along with people easily. The sports program helps promote good will between individual schools and puts spirit into the hearts of the students.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Mudd (top) is serving as our Superintendent for the third year. Mrs. Helen Arras (right) is secretary to the Superintendent. Mr. William Reynolds (lower right) is being congratulated by, Mr. Parkhill and Mr. Mudd for having been named Teacher of the Month by the State Industrial Arts Staff.

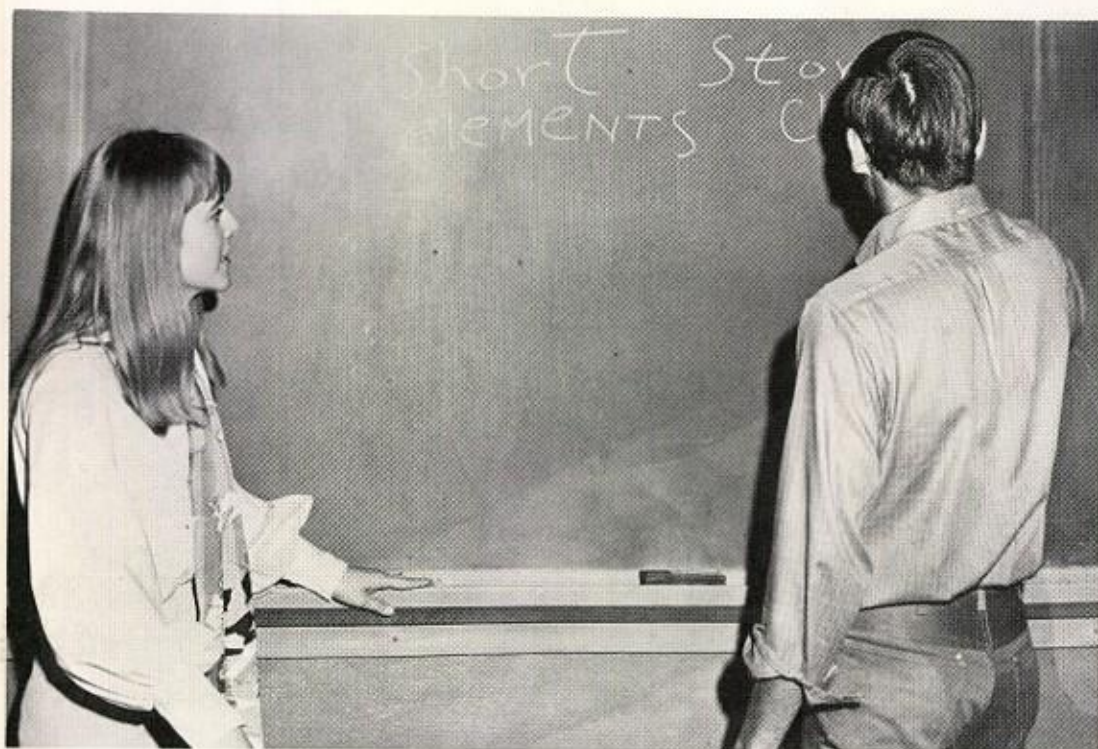

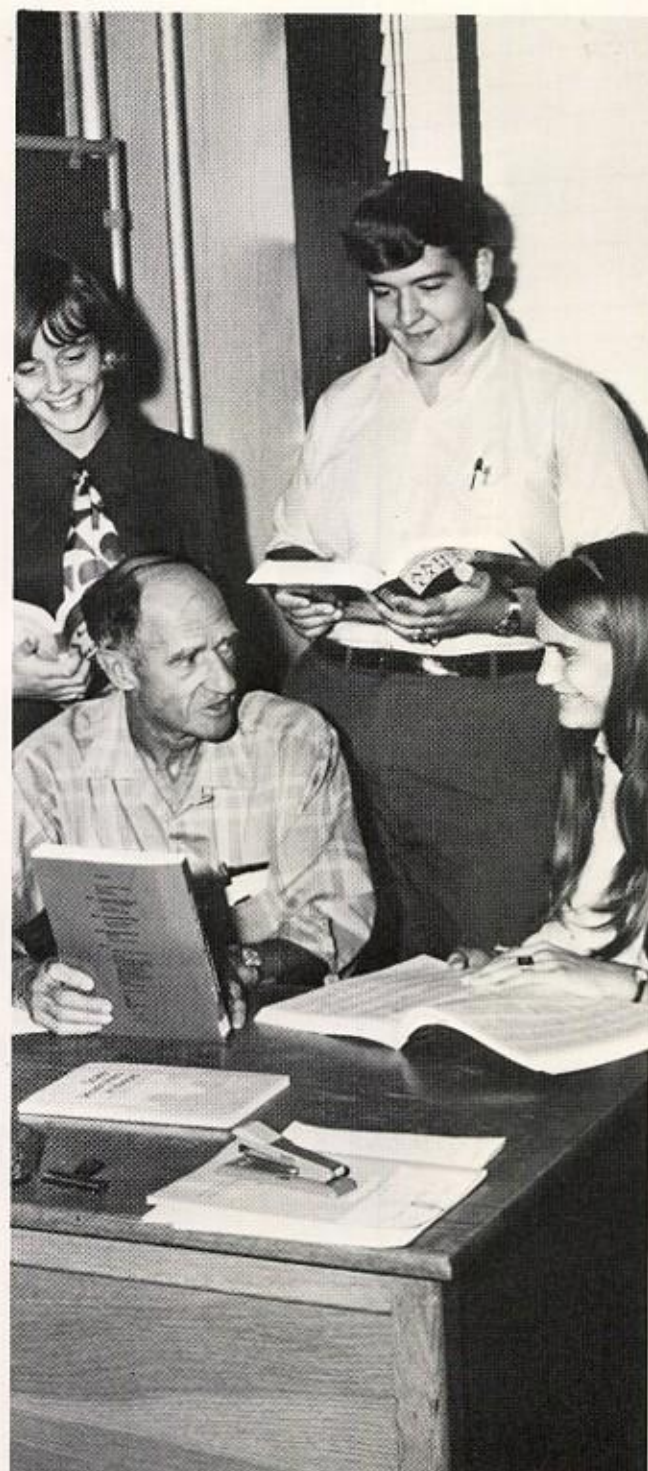

CLASSES

LANGUAGES ENCOURAGE

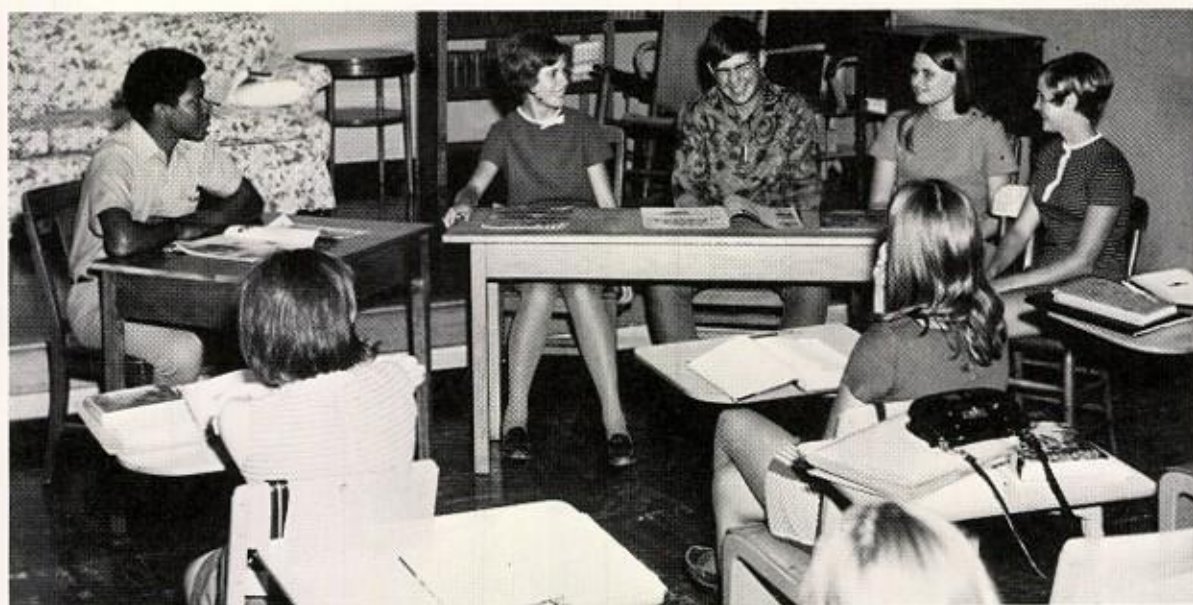

In the above picture, Don Marlen is about to start a record about Chaucer. Looking on are Miss Gonnermann, Dale Ketten, and Judy Sims. Miss Gonnermann is also a guidance counselor. At the right, Mr. Barker, also an English IV teacher, is pointing out to Denise Phelps, and the on-looking students, Vivian Daniel and Sidney Bolle, some of the college requirements. Many of the seniors who have taken English IV this year, plan to attend college. This course prepares them for the many themes and term papers that every college student has to prepare.

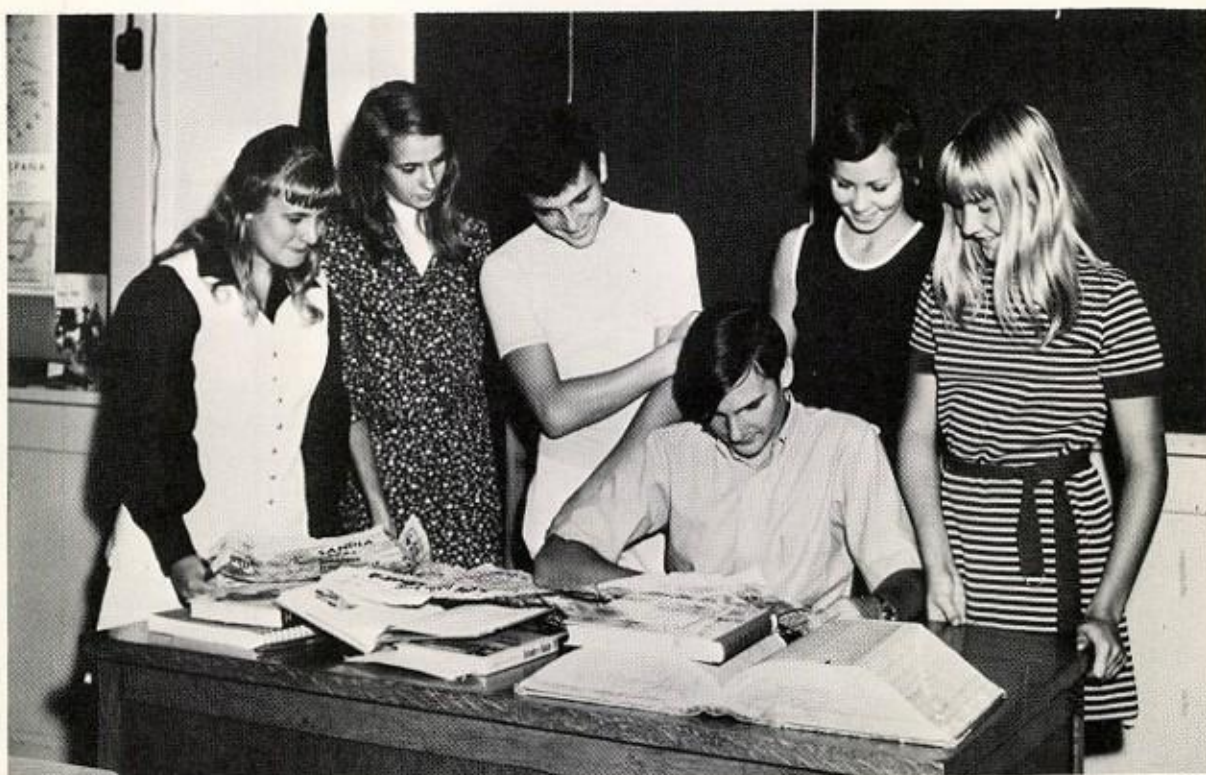

Miss Raker is explaining to Dan Malin the fundamentals of a good short story as he writes them on the board for the rest of the class.

FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION

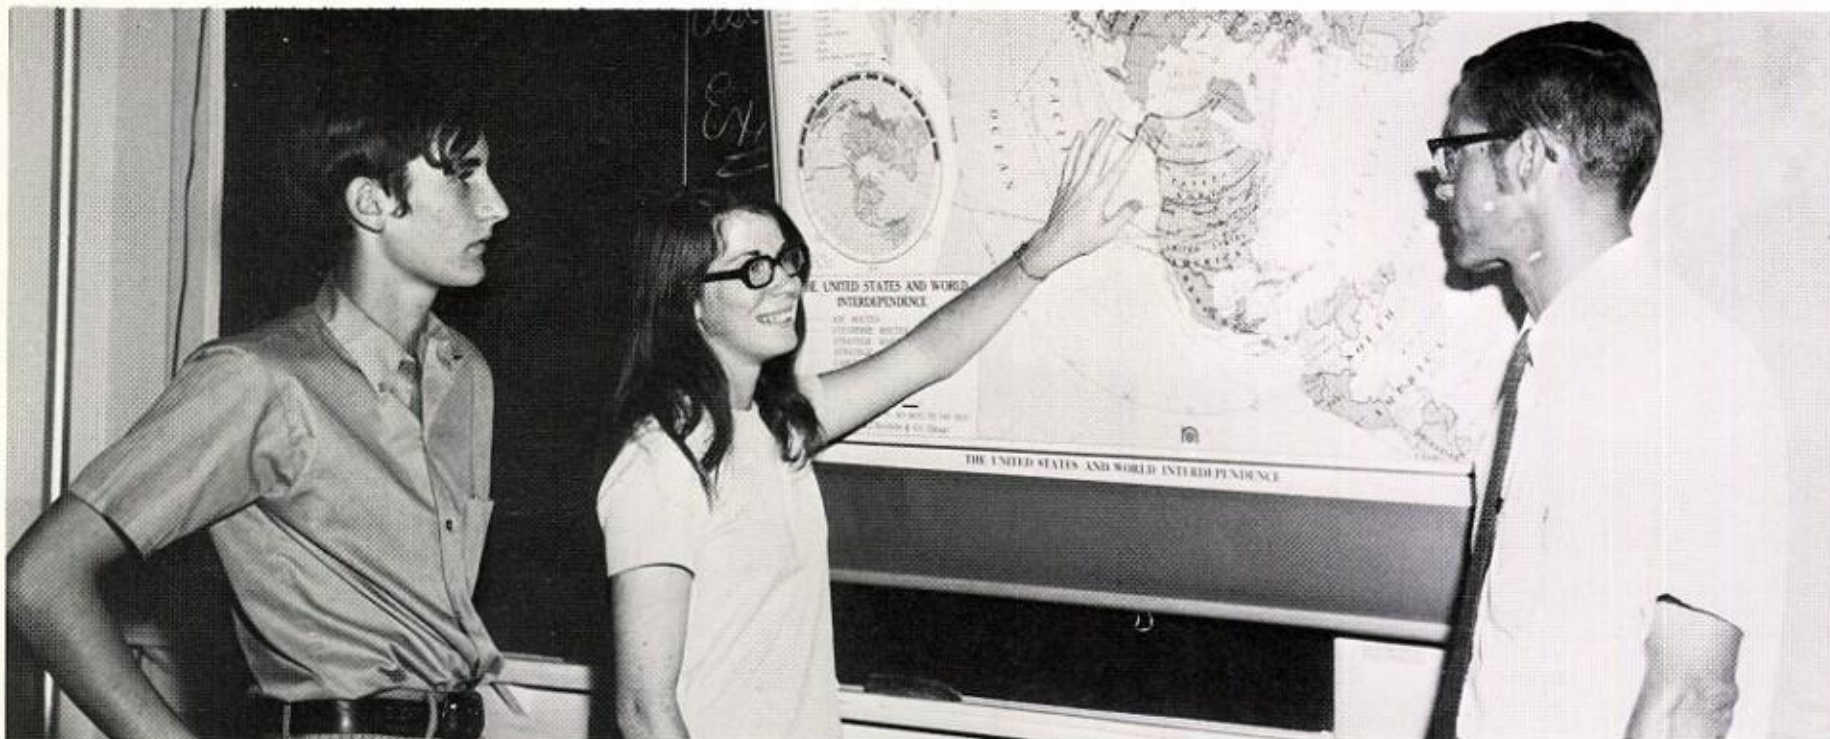

During a panel discussion, Jesse Bryant asks LeRoy Foster his opinion on a certain topic. LeRoy is shown giving his opinion. Other students on the panel are Sandy Bennett, Debbie Tilton, and Scharmayne Arendell.

During this foreign language class, Kathy La-Mastus, Pat Olson, John Morton, Candy Collins, and Debbie Marlen look on as John Mullen points out an item of interest in a foreign newspaper. A student may now take two years of French or two years of Spanish. This is a requirement of admission to some colleges.

In English 1, Mrs. Lockley points out to the newly oriented students the importance of reading a wide variety of material. Here Mrs. Lockley is helping Denise Wisdom as Janet Saltzman, Diane Stoffel, John Howard, and Bob Stahlschmidt, glance through other material.

TRANSMITTING PAST EXPERIENCES THROUGH HISTORY

History is the diary of our civilization. Through history, students learn the background of their present lives. Going back to Greece, they learn where the very idea of democracy had its beginning. Reading about the Revolutionary War, how a small country was fighting for its existence, paves the way to understand better the Vietnam conflict. Studying the amendments to the Constitution, women's right to vote, brings the Women's Liberation Movement to mind.

Yes, history truly is a diary of our past and present lives. The students at D.C.H.S. hope their graduation will help to make many advantageous resolutions: eighteen year olds get the vote; an end to campus riots; an end to the war in Vietnam; a cure for cancer, and the stopping of damaging pollution. Through their efforts and knowledge, our students work to be contributors to a better world for all mankind.

YOUTH SEARCHES FOR EXPRESSION THROUGH MUSIC

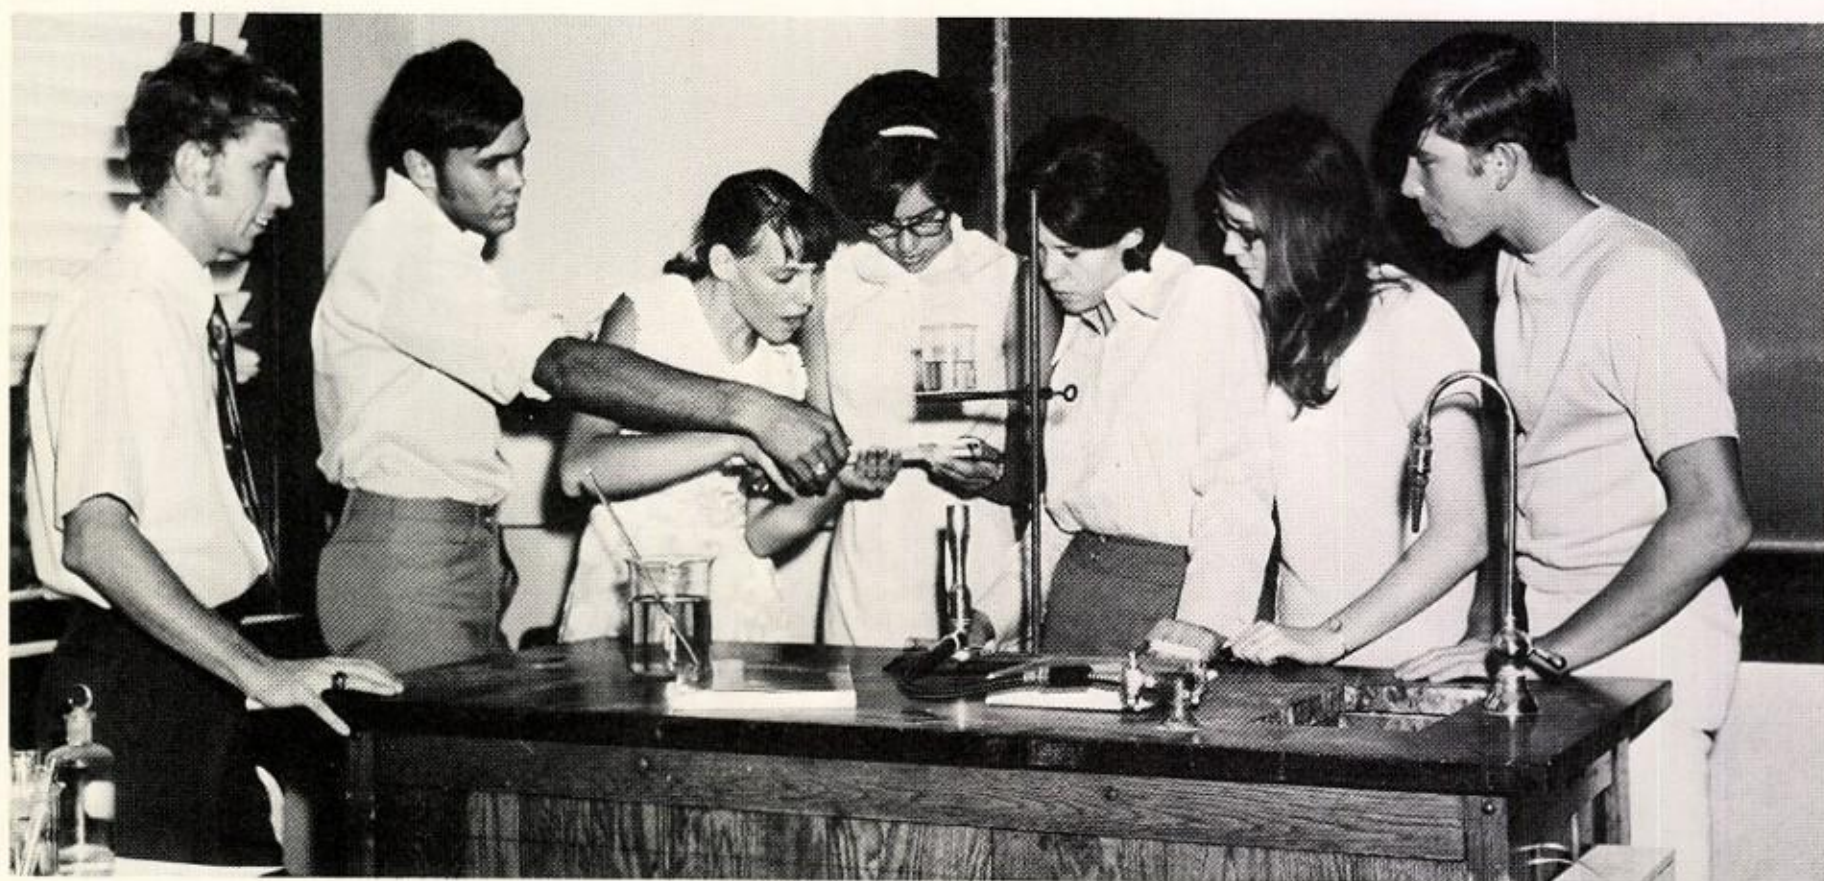

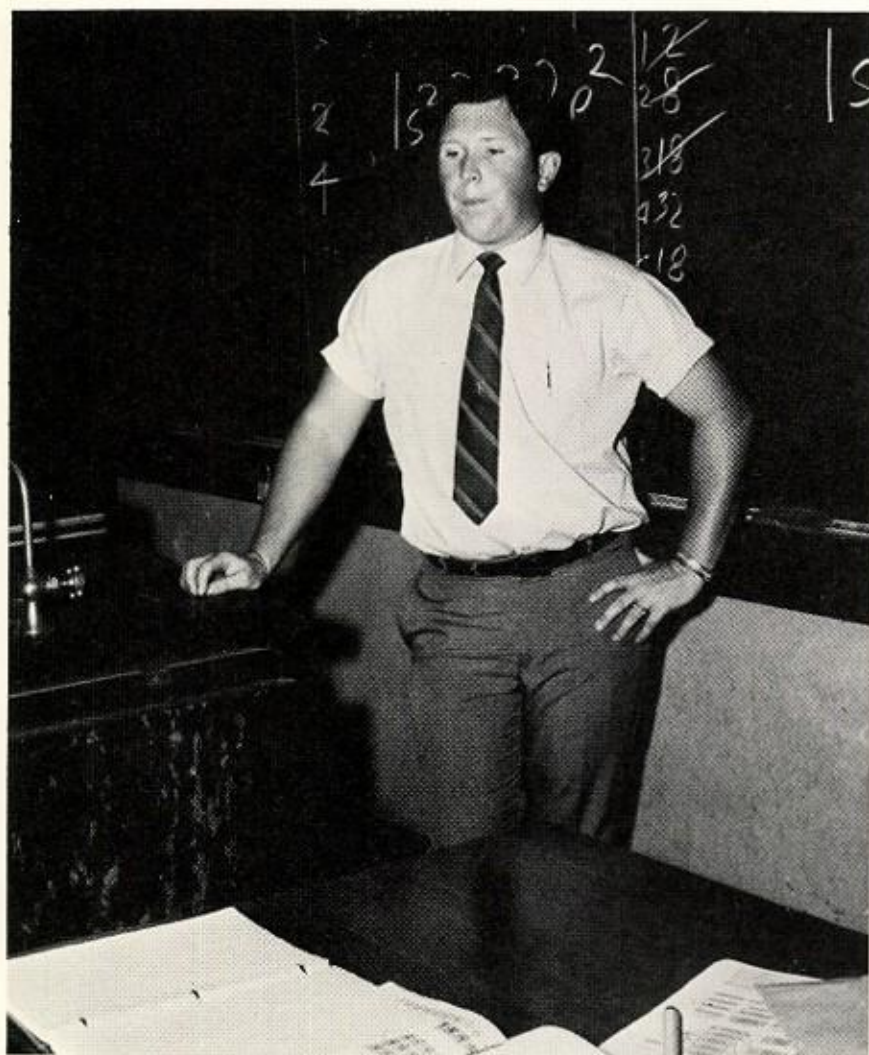

Music takes many turns at D.C.H.S. The range is vast, going from Bach to the Fifth Dimension. Each student is acquainted with the entire scope of music.

In our two departments, choral and instrumental music, much emphasis is put upon the appreciation of music. One learns to pick out the best arrangements, whether it is classical or hard rock.

Miss Stockglausner and Mr. Young are both very liberal in selection of pieces making sure each student becomes aware of every aspect of musical composition.

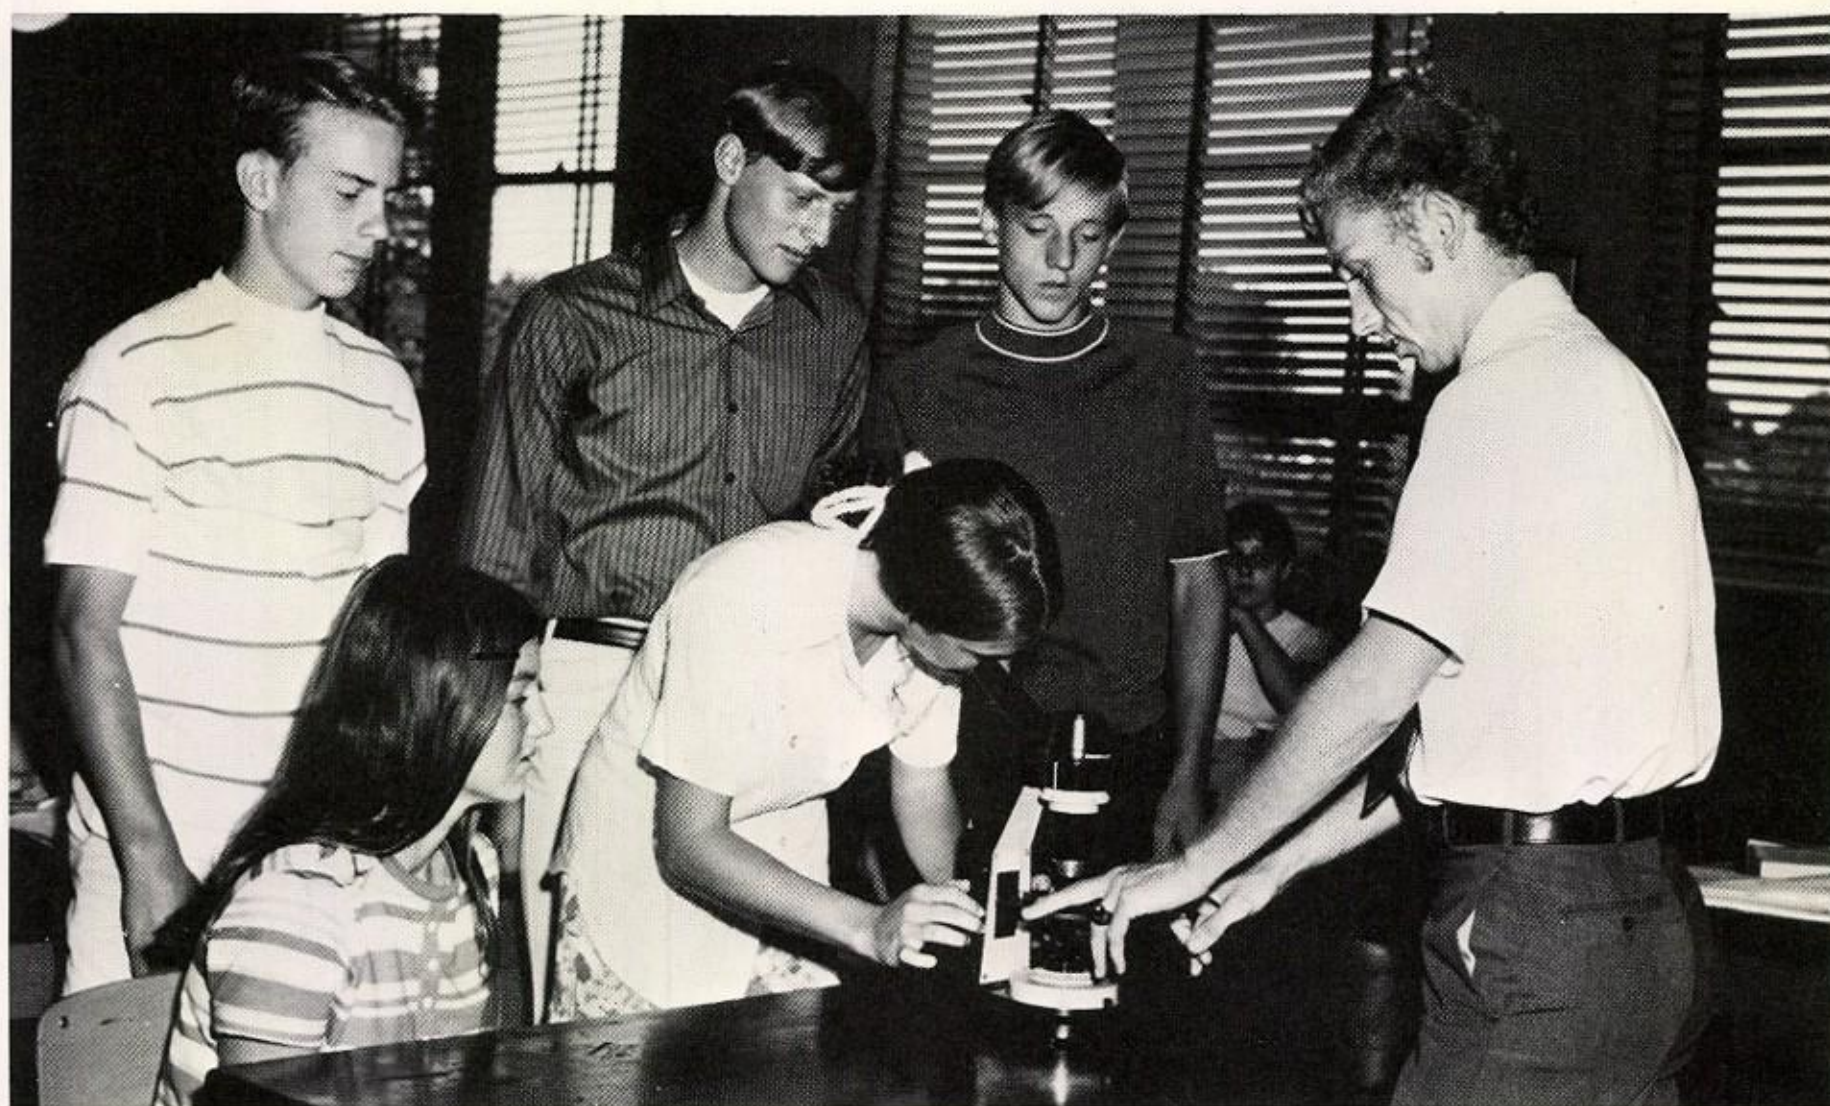

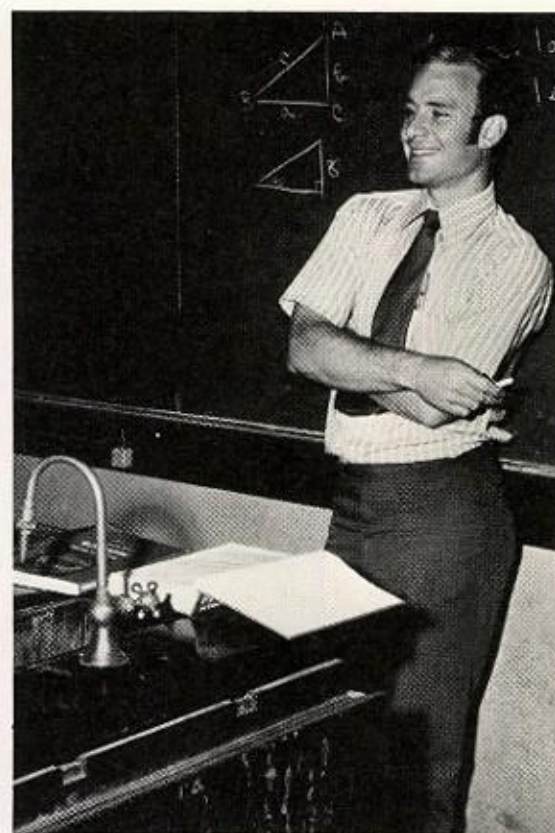

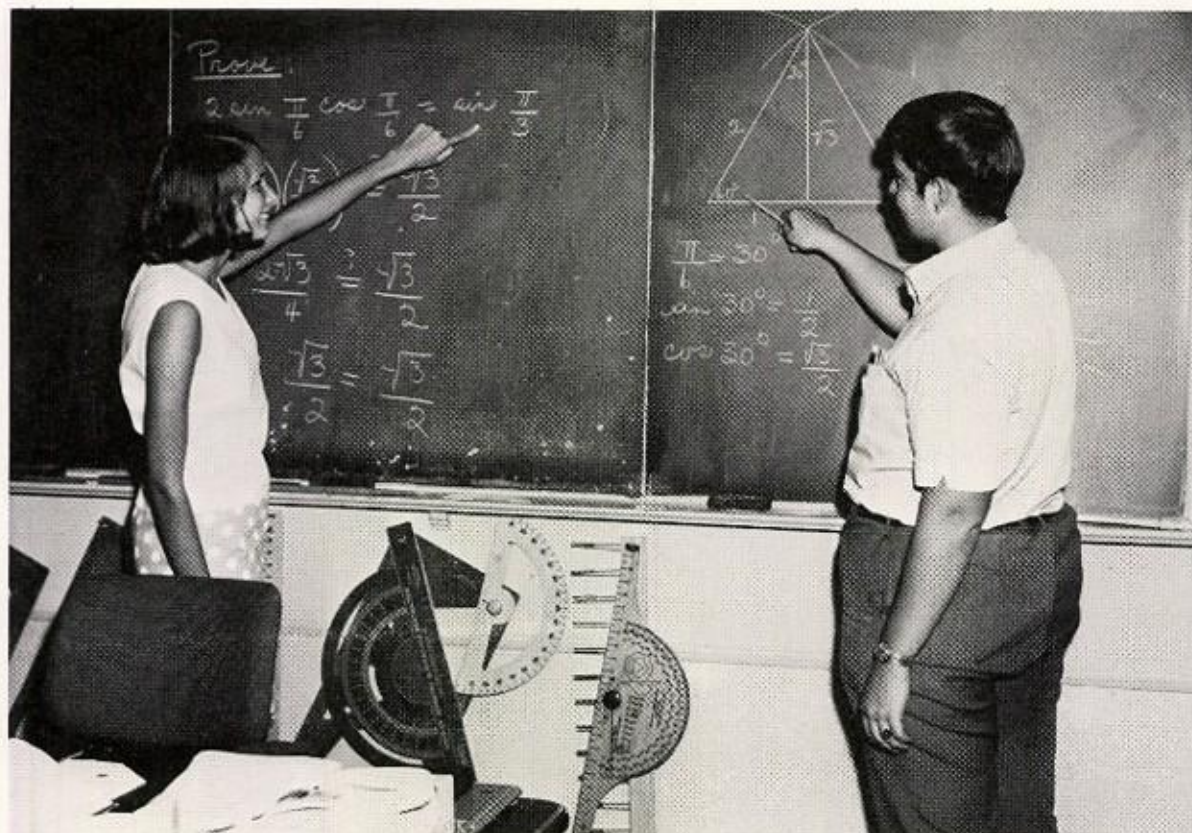

MATHEMATICS AND SCIENCE TOOLS OF DISCOVERY

The science and math courses at Dupo are taught by Mr. Thomas, Mr. Clark, Mr. Bright, and Mrs. Williamson. There are 228 students enrolled in Algebra I, Algebra II, Math

I, Plane Geometry, and Math Analysis. There are 285 students enrolled in Chemistry, General Science, Biology, and Physics. Today these classes are of utmost importance.

With a knowledge of math and science, one has a basis to keep up with the changes taking place in the world today.

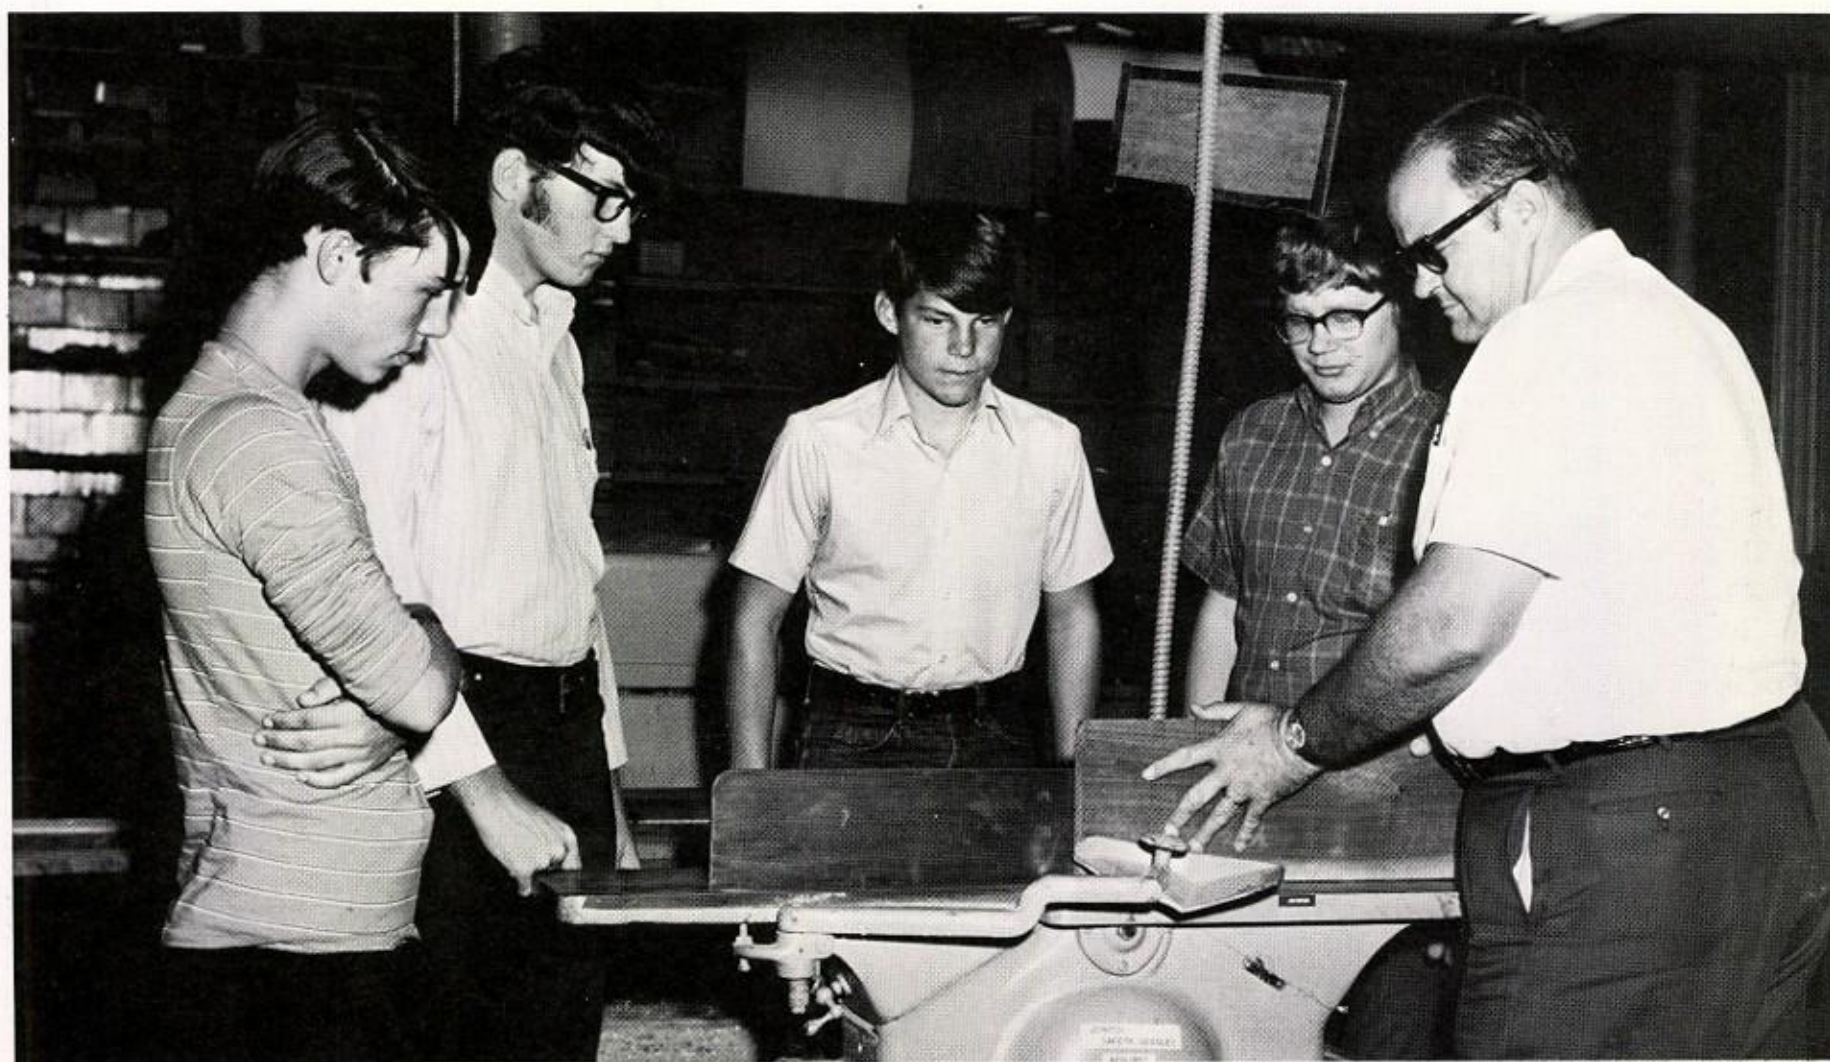

VOCATIONAL DEPT. OPENS MANY DOORS

Mr. Reynolds and Vocational Drafting class (top left) experiment with a laminating machine. Aerospace class (top right) gains first hand information on flight instruments by using the simulator. After setting type, students watch Mr. Stewart (bottom) take a proof print.

FOR PEOPLE INTERESTED IN INDUSTRY

Mr. Nation (top) supervises students as they plane a board in production.

Mr. Stewart (bottom) explains the jointer, which makes a true edge on the stock.

STUDENTS PREPARE FOR

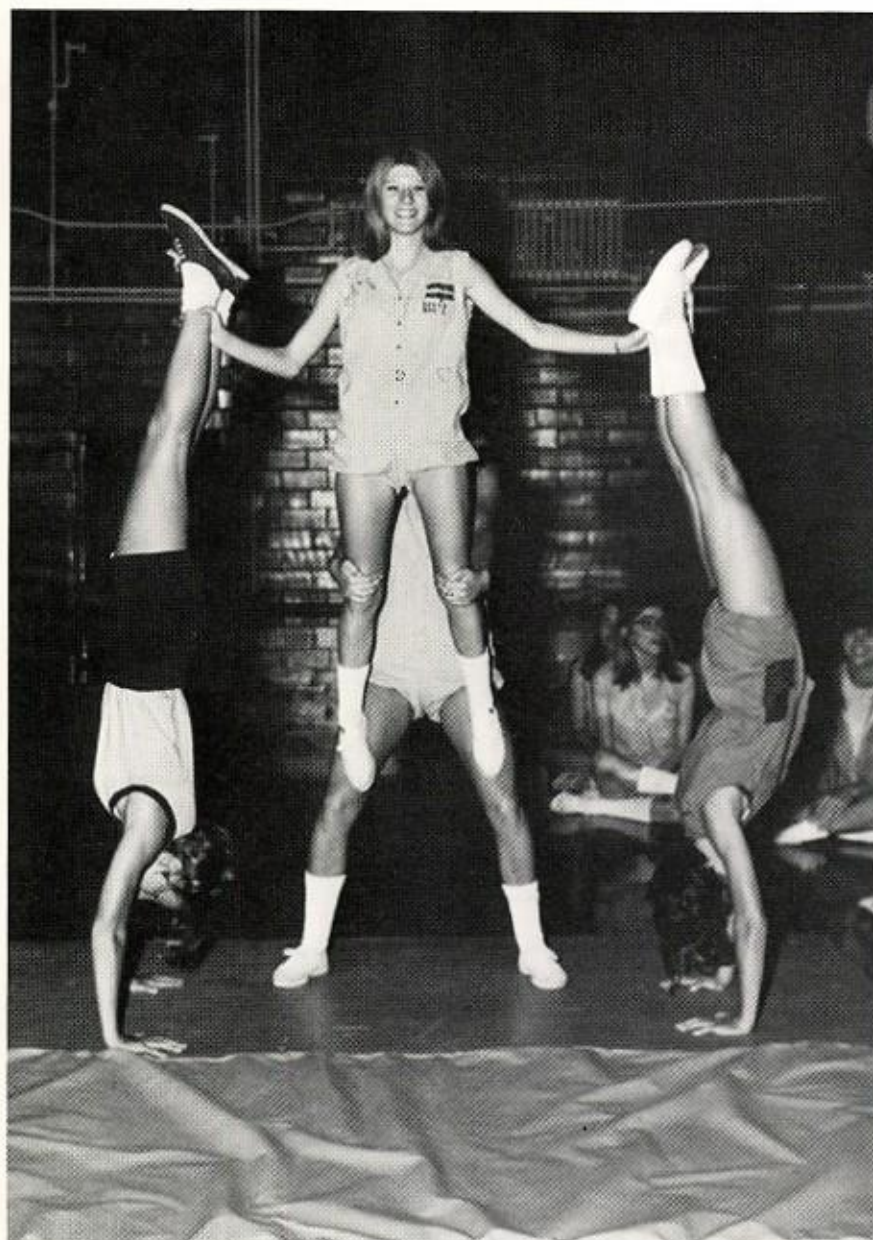

A CAREER IN THE WORLD OF BUSINESS

Mr. Wolke (top left) is instructing his class in the techniques of typing. Mrs. Schlueter (left bottom) is dictating to her class in secretarial practice. Mr. Woodfin (top right) is assisting his students in the use of office machines. Mr. Fischer (bottom) is discussing banking practices with students in his consumer education class.

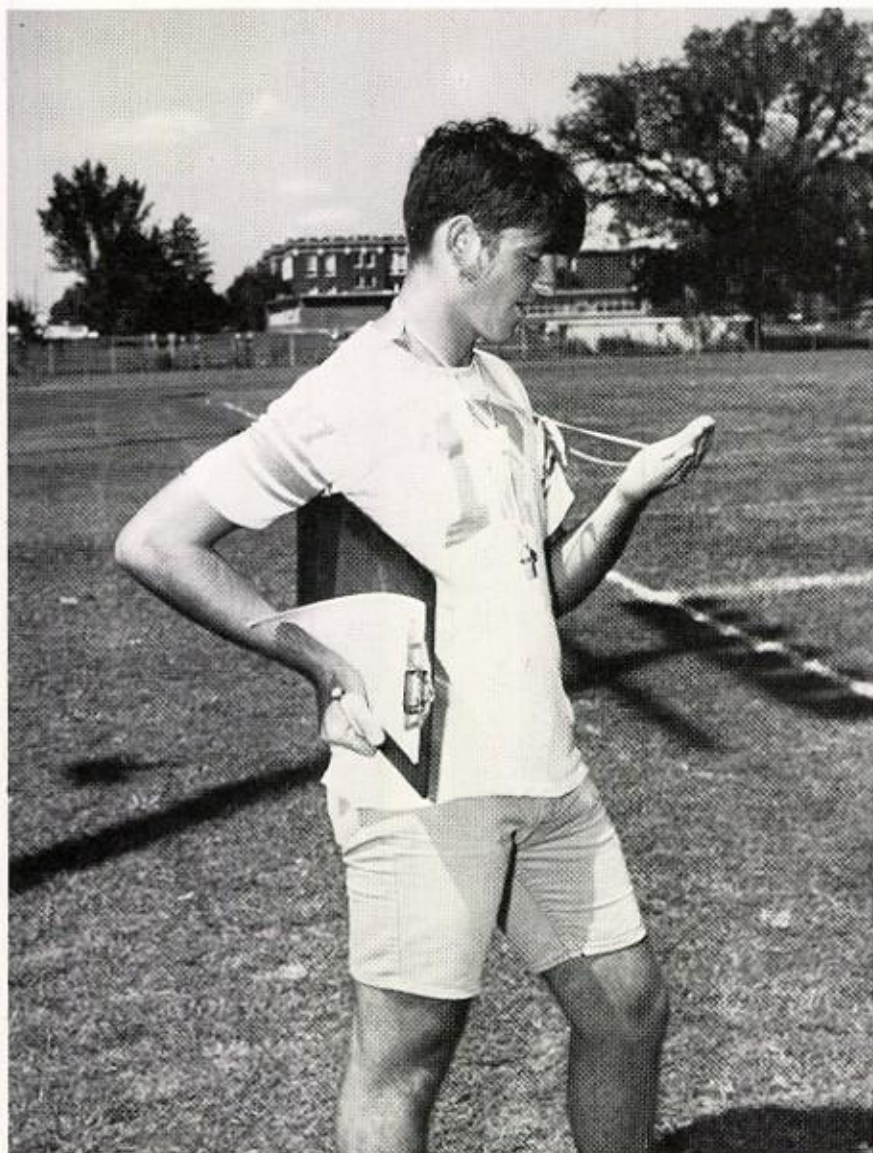

PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLASSES DEVELOP

PHYSICAL FITNESS AND SPORTSMANSHIP

Physical education classes are required for each student at Dupo High School. Some of the many activities in which the students participate are softball, touch football, volleyball and basketball. The basic goal of the classes is to help the students develop physical fitness and a sense of fairness and sportsmanship. This year three assistants have been hired to help the gym teachers. They are Miss Pat Squires, Mr. Mike McKinney, and Mr. Gary Camp. Some of their many duties are calling roll, acting as referees, and leading in calisthenics.

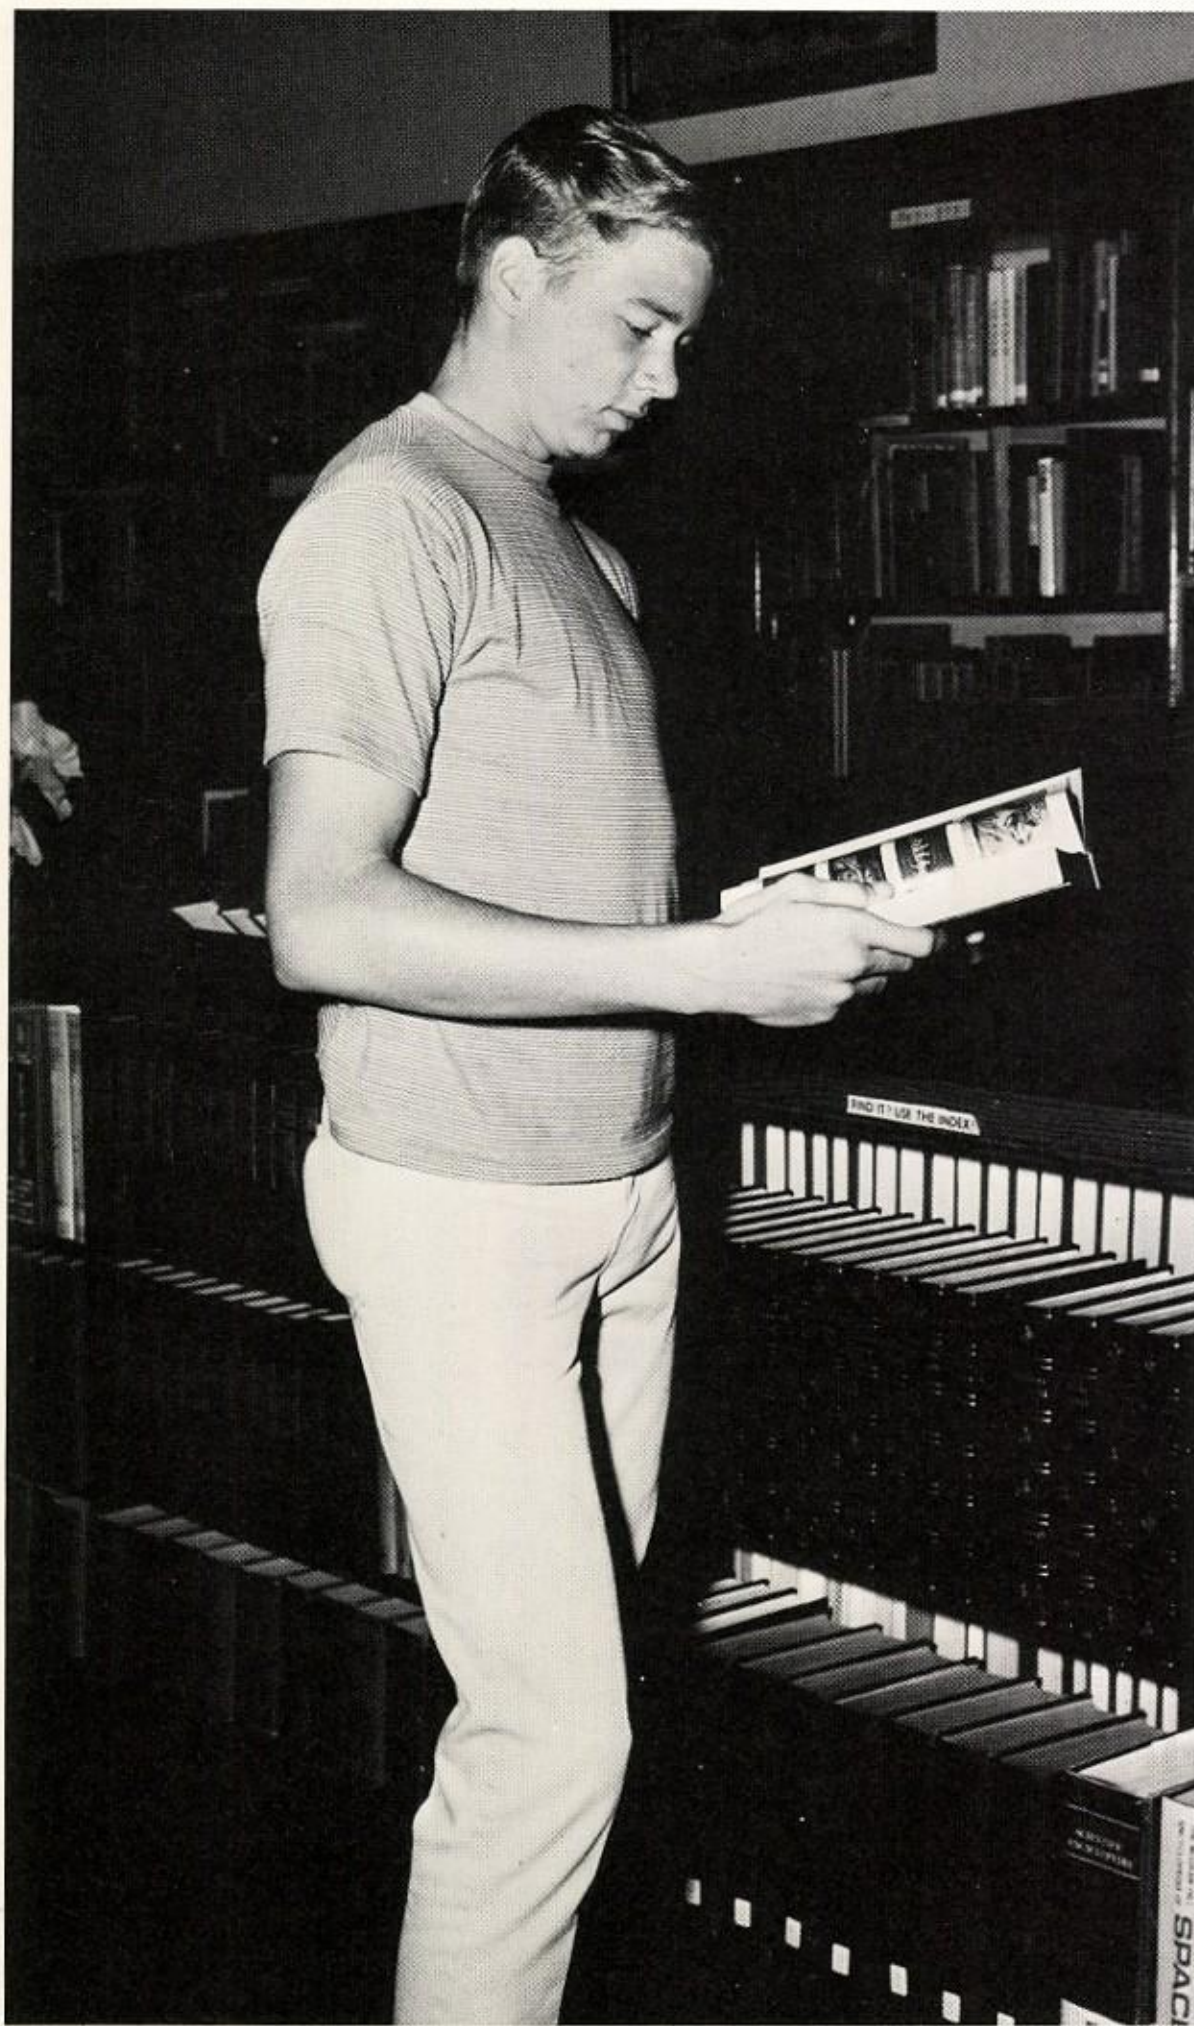

Boys in gym class are enjoying a spirited game of touch football with Mr. Neeman in charge.

Mr. Brubaker is shown leading his gym class in calisthenics, part of the daily routine.

In the above picture Don Marlen is using the reference books in the library. Above right, Mrs. Moore is finding a book for Mike Ferry in the card catalog.

David LaMastus is checking out books for Gary Douchant and Larry Vanover.

SPECIAL EDUCATION CLASSES

Many students use the library during study hall and other periods. Mrs. Moore is our school librarian.

Students in the sophomore and junior classes take drivers education. They learn "rules of the road" in the classroom and also learn practical use in driving.

Mrs. Proffer teaches art class, in which the students learn the many aspects of art and put them to use.

These are all parts of the special education classes.

Mrs. Proffer is here with the art class. They are making wire sculptures. In the background are different pictures and paintings which the students created.

The home management class is pricing new kitchen equipment.

HOMEMAKING

Homemaking is a combination of many areas of learning. It is home management, clothing construction, and Wage Earning-Food Services. This year the major interest of the homemaking program is the Wage Earning section.

This is a vocational program authorized by federal assistance. It is designed to train students for careers in food service occupations.

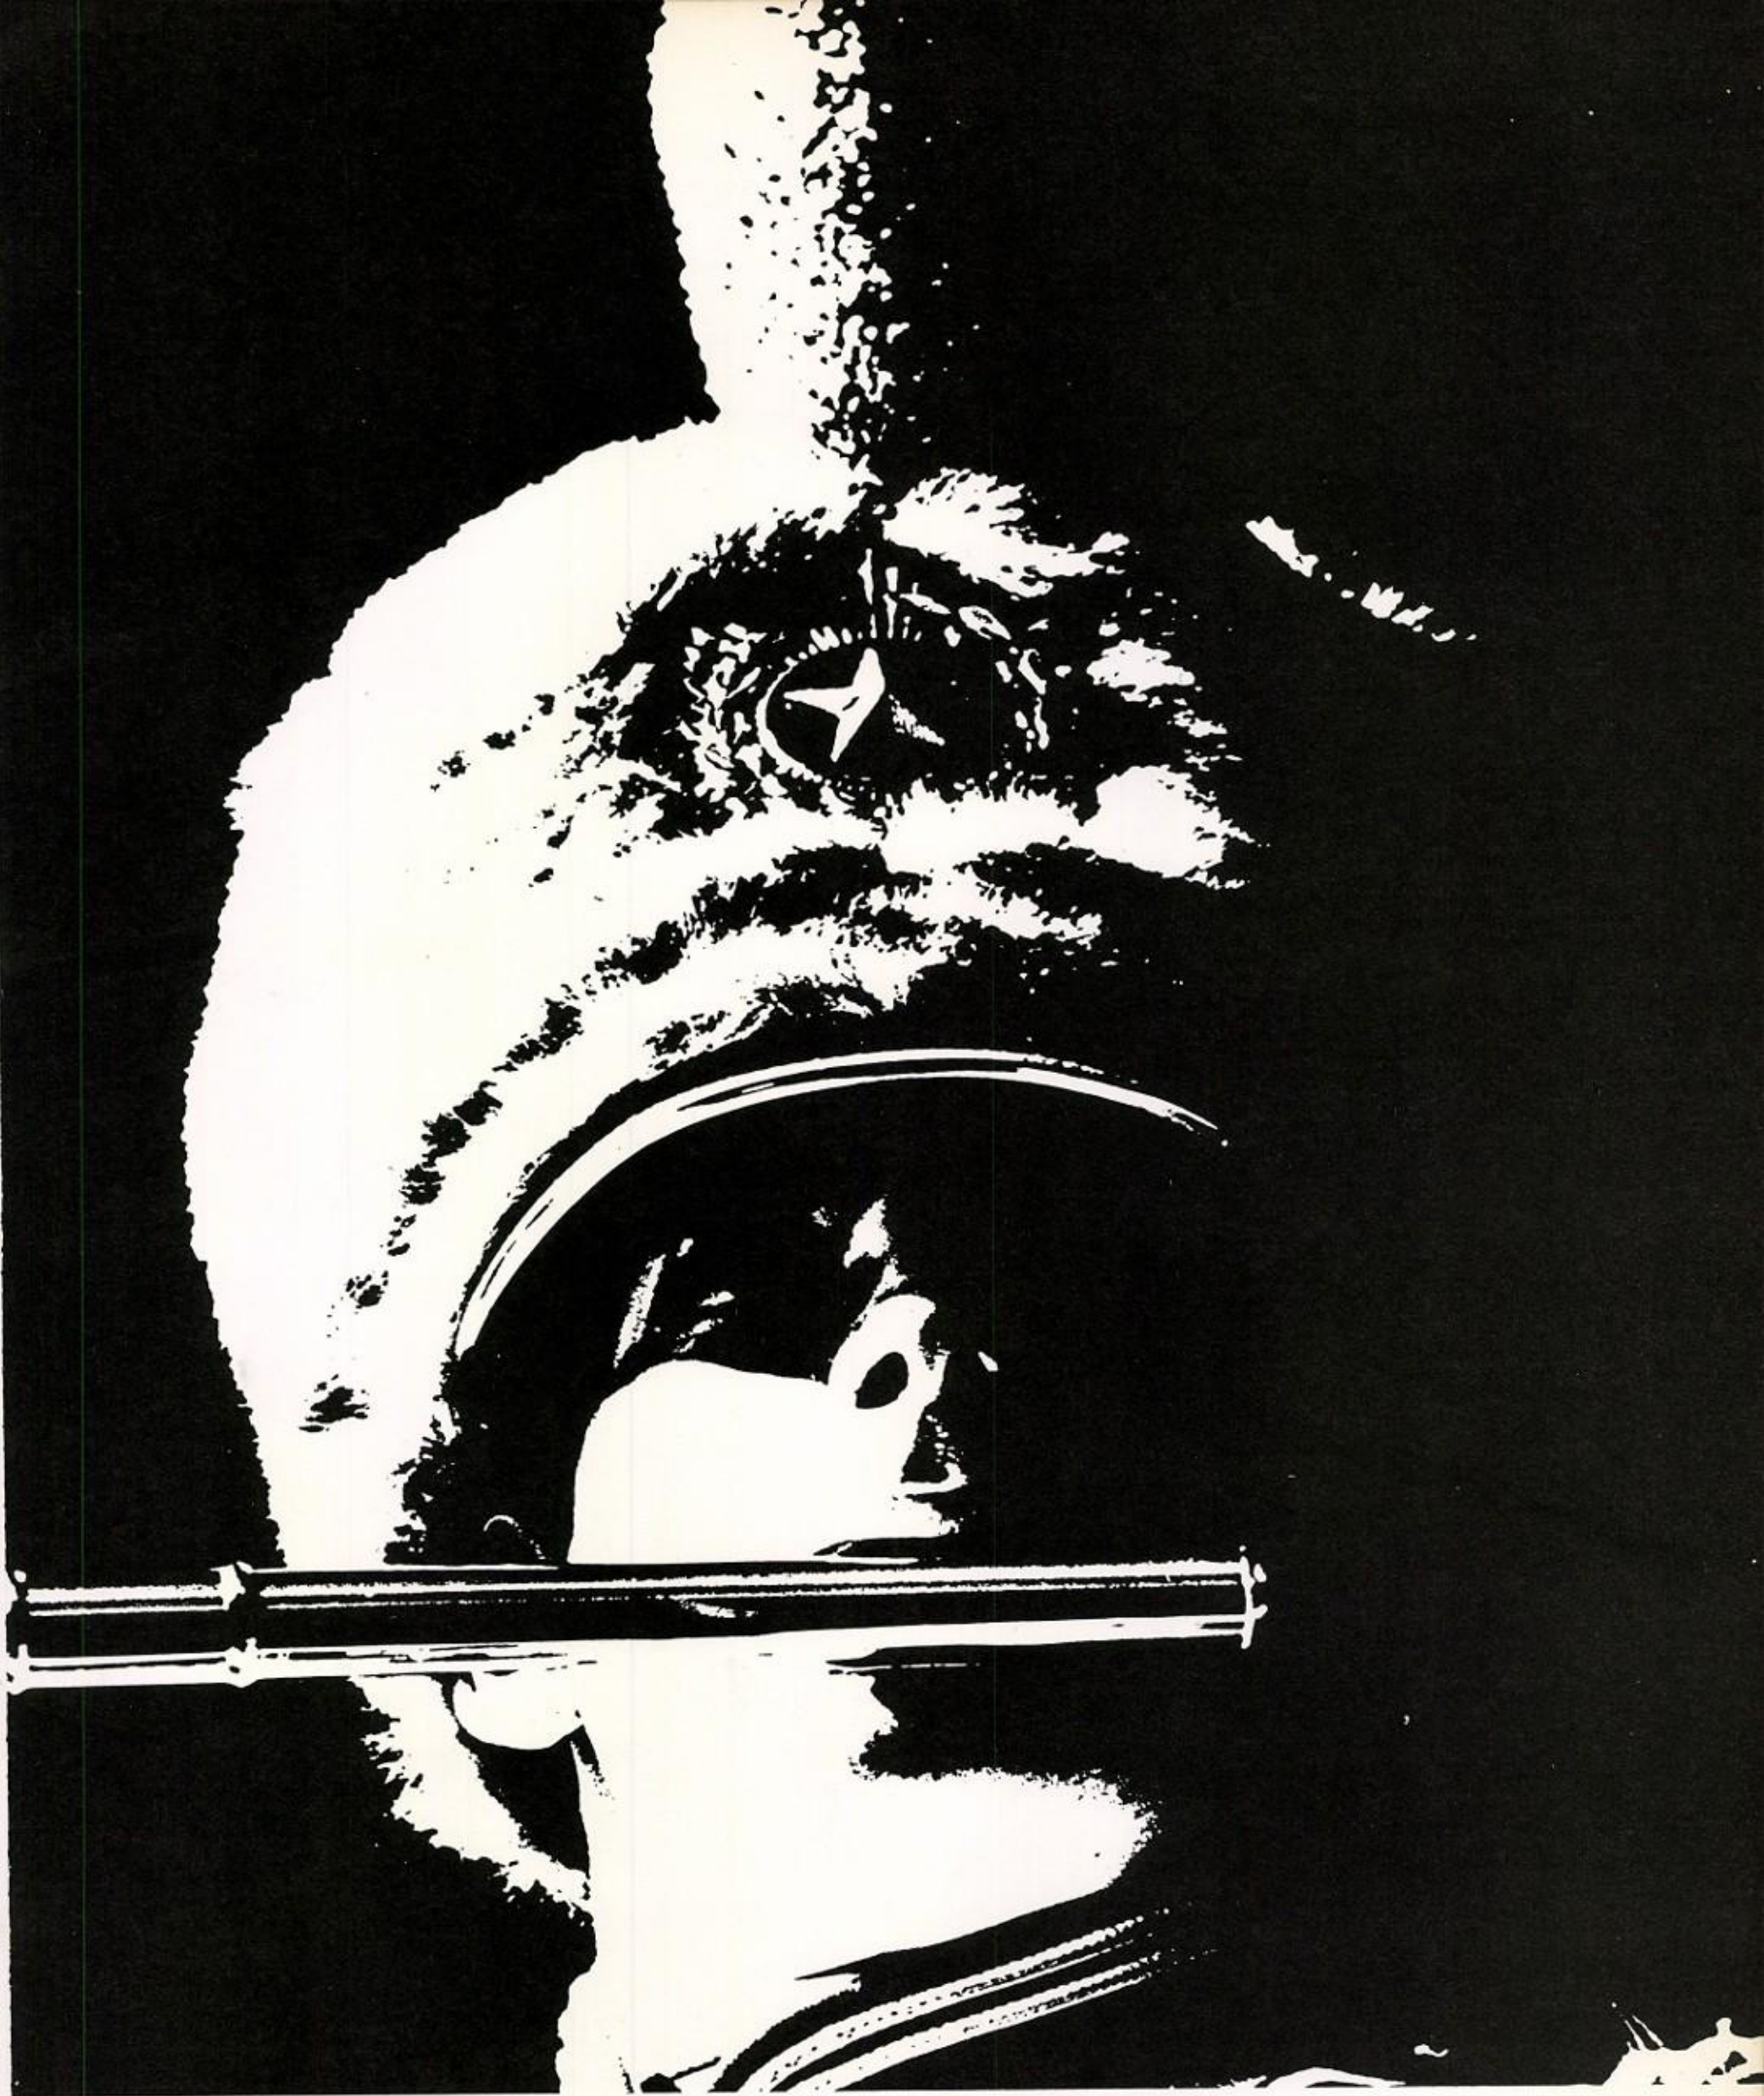

Home Economics efforts are directed toward preparation for homemaking now and in the future.

Miss Shirley Wilson, Home Economist, gives a laundry demonstration.

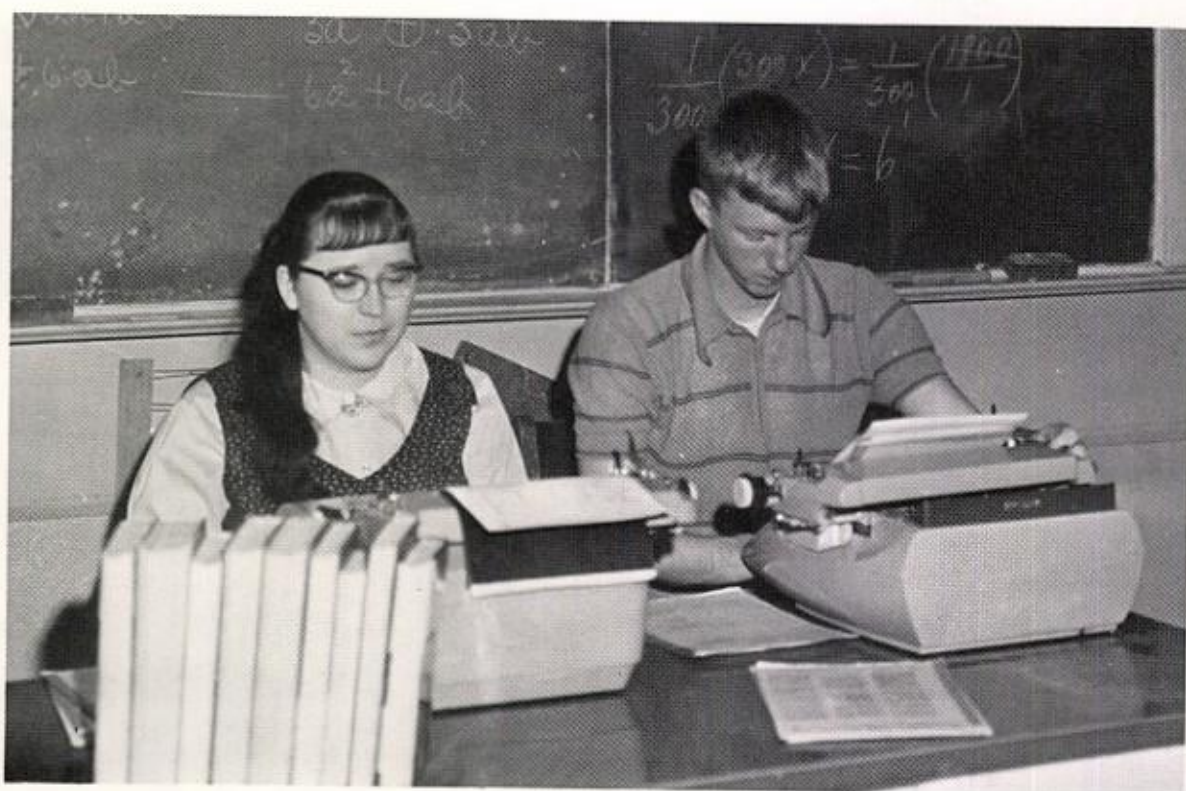

A few of the girls from the Wage Earning-Food Services class learn practical experience in the cafeteria.

ORGANIZATIONS

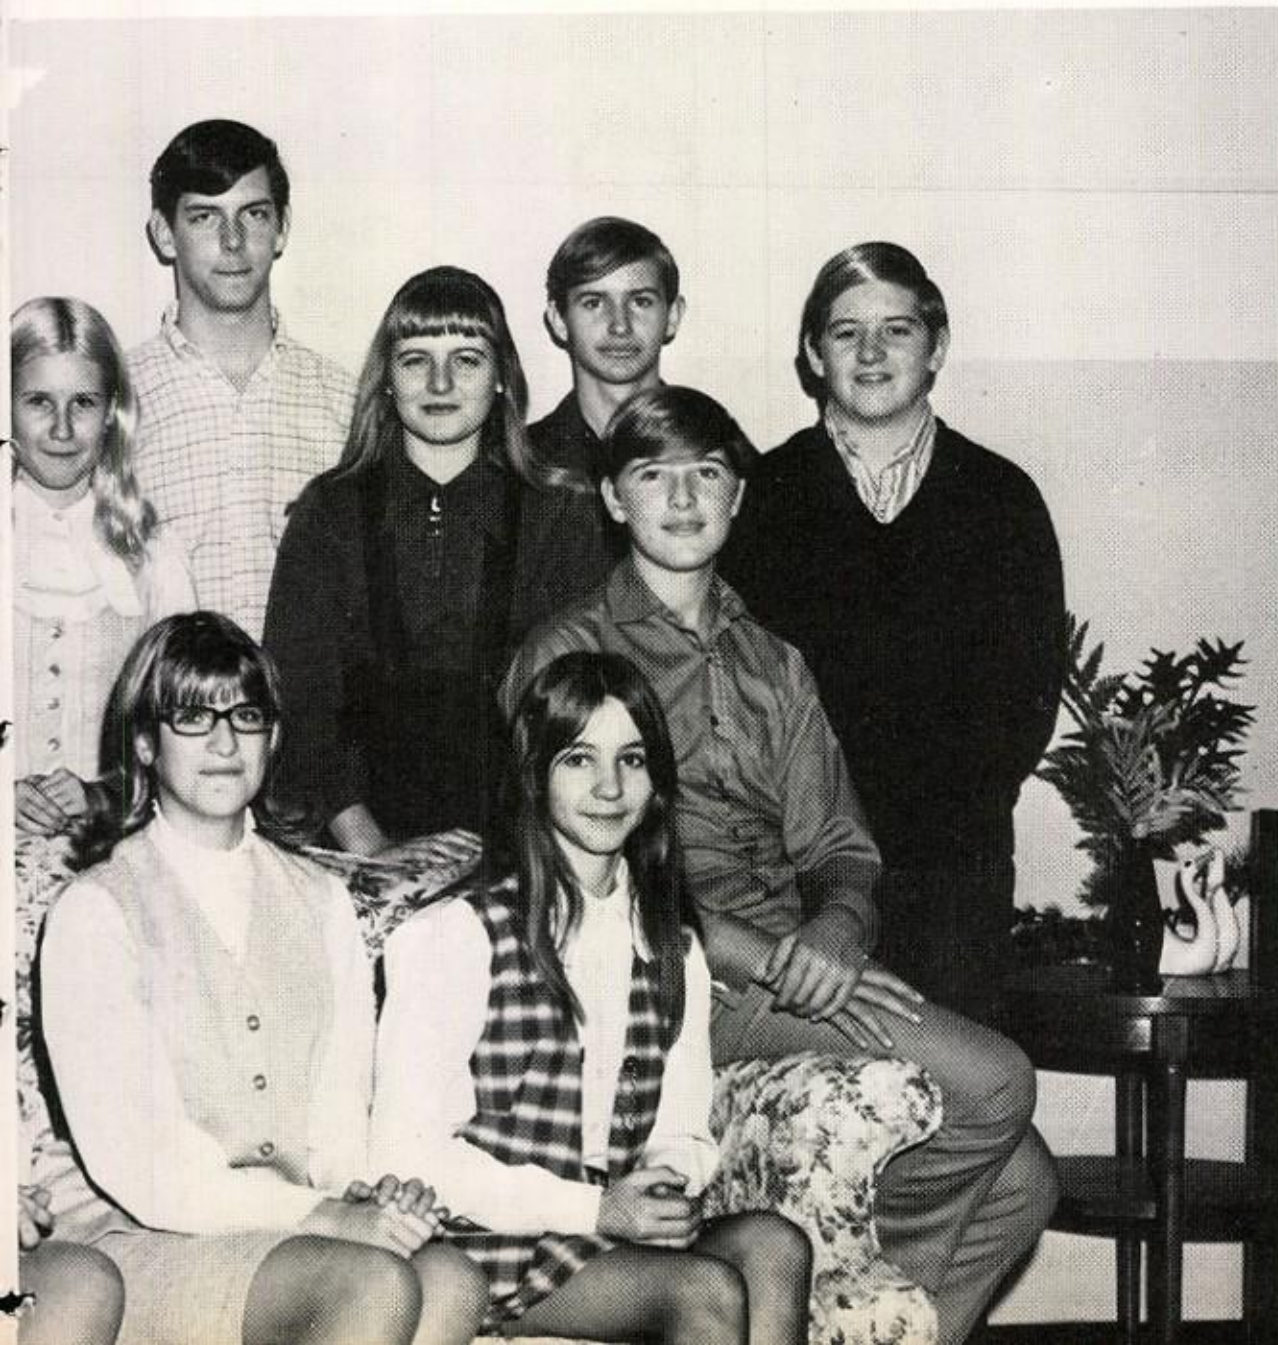

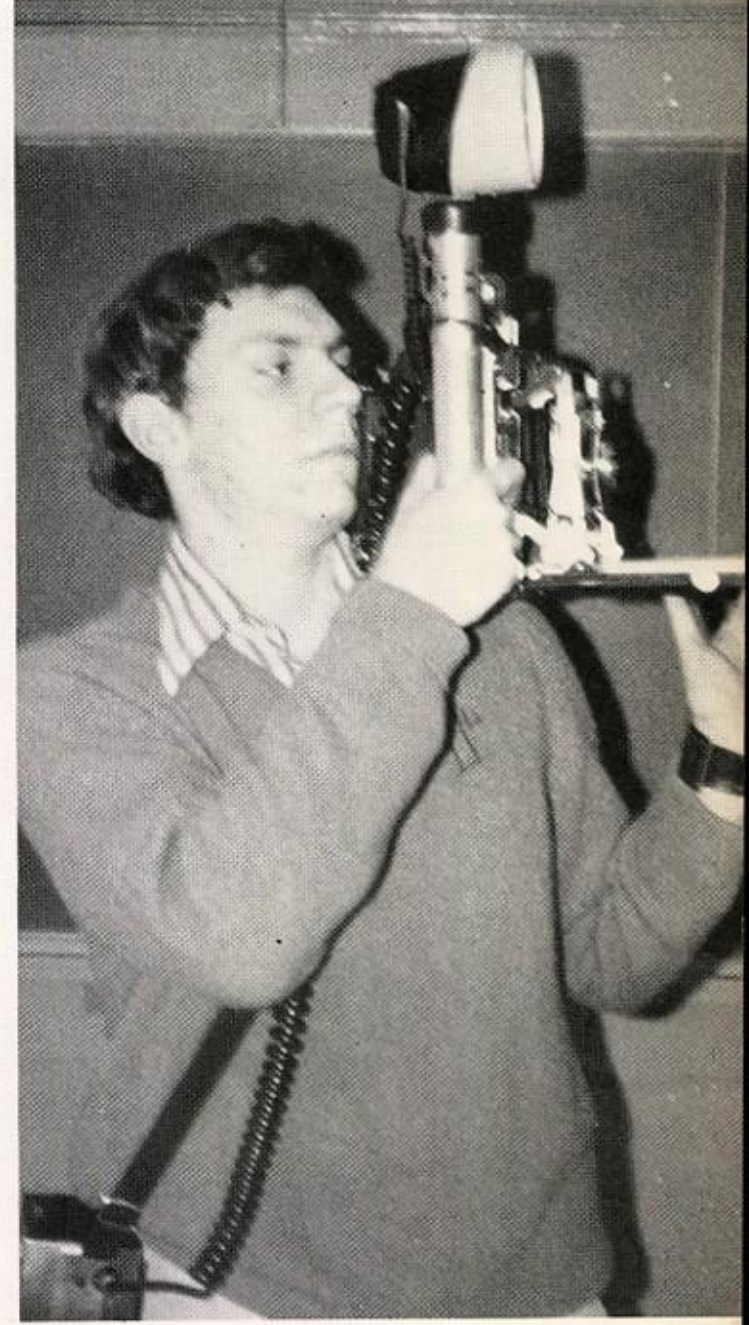

Duties of members of annual staff are many and varied. They decide on layouts and theme, table of contents, layout pages, take pictures, write body copy, outlines, headlines and distribute the finished product. The pictures show the process of completing a page. Members (upper left) are drawing the layout of pages.

Echo Staff informs the students of things that are happening at DCHS. The Echo Staff is shown at the bottom. Mrs. Wolke (lower right), sponsor for Echo Staff, is with the co-editors, Nancy Spier and Roger Bieber, Pat Olsson, and Mike O'Brien.

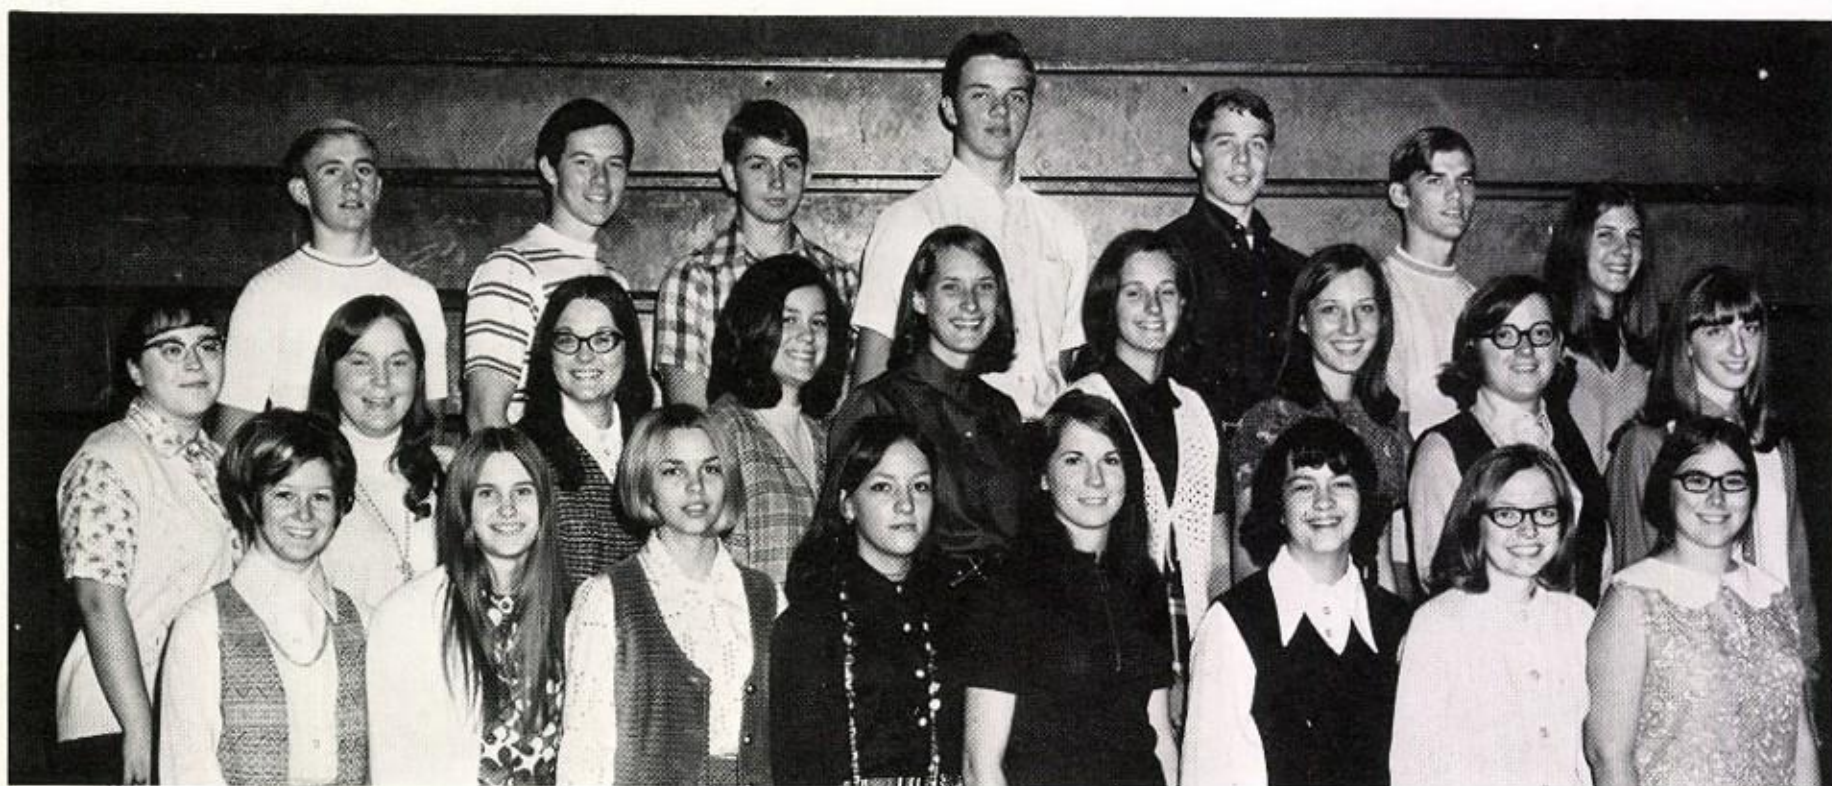

National Honor Society is an organization of High School and Junior College students who have a "B" or better average. Other desirable qualities are: good character, growing leadership, willing service, and worthy school citizenship.

The aims of National Honor Society are to develop abilities, talents and skills, to train students in the attainment of attractive personalities, and to prepare them for adult citizenship in a global democracy.

Mu Alpha Theta is a national High School and Junior College Mathematics Club. Active members are students who have completed four semesters of college preparatory mathematics and are enrolled in the fifth semester mathematics course. In addition, their mathematical work and their general high school work must have been done with distinction. This means at least a "B" average.

Reports are given on topics in mathematics beyond what is ordinarily thought of as school mathematics. These reports tend to help the students later adjust to the college mathematics curriculum.

TYPING ACTIVITY

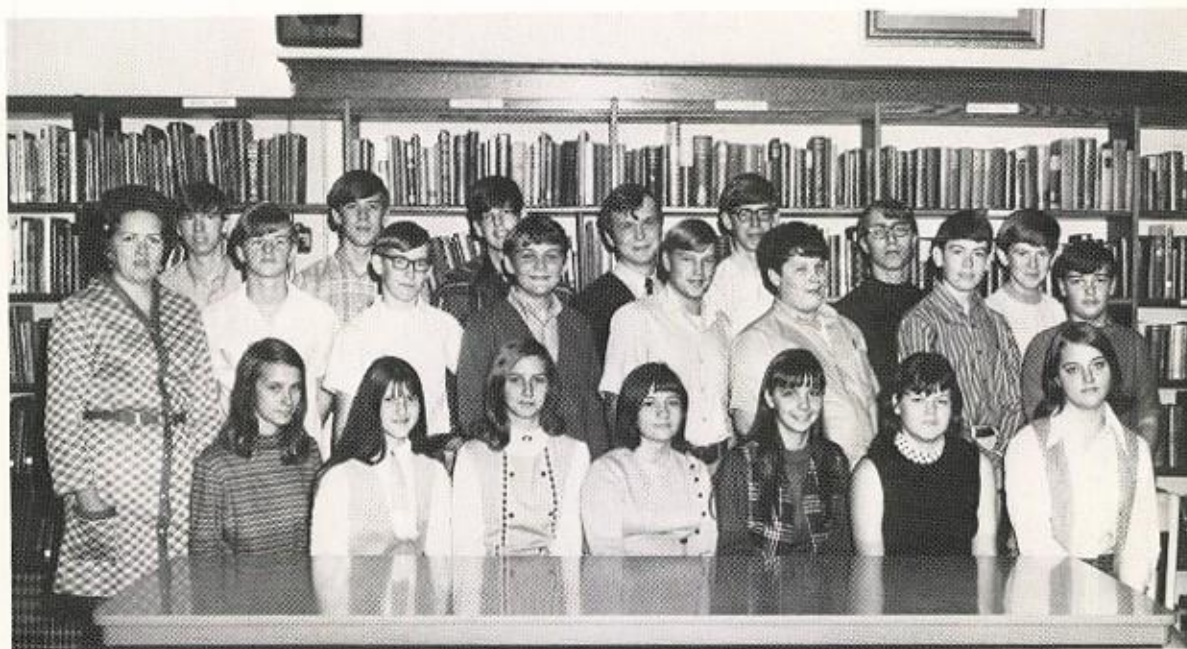

Typing activity, sponsored by Mr. Wolke, gives students a chance to practice typing and to do some personal typing. They may take timed writings in order to improve their typing skill, complete assignments from typing class, and practice typing letters, telegraphs, manuscripts, and other things. Besides this, they may use this time to type personal letters, term papers, and typing for other teachers.

Mr. Wolke is always ready and willing to help those students who have any questions. The club was organized at Mr. Wolke's suggestion for this reason.

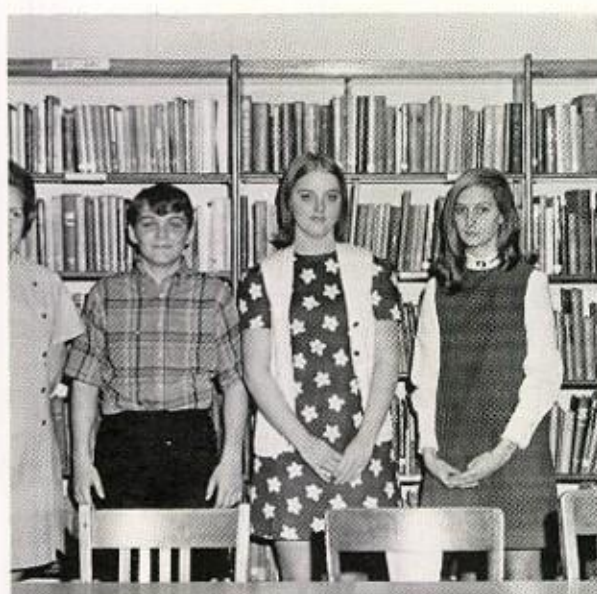

LIBRARY AND VISUAL AIDS CLUB

The purpose of the Library and Visual Aids Club is to promote student interest within the library. The Club is for those students who are interested in books and reading as well as those who are interested in Audio-Visual Aids.

The equipment available includes record players, film-strip projectors, cassette tape players, and Duhane automatic sound film-strip.

Mrs. Moore, (Upper Left), is showing Mike Ferry the correct way to use a card catalogue. The members of the club are pictured in the upper right. Sidney Bolle and Tom Carter, (Middle), are using some of our new equipment. Mrs. Moore, (Lower Right), is showing the club how to use a filmstrip previewer. The officers of the club and Mrs. Moore are pictured in the lower left.

Senior members of the Industrial Arts Club (Upper Left), the junior members (Upper Middle) sophomore members (Lower Left) and freshman members (Lower Middle) perform many services for the school and the community. Some of the recent projects are painting the bleachers, and rails in the gymnasium, and making signs for all doors in the high school. These signs indicate the teacher using the room, the number of the room and the subject taught in the room.

Biology Club (Upper Right) is working on various money-making ventures for possible future field trips. The Printing Club (Lower Right) prints programs for

Adrienne,
 I'm secretly signing this annual hoping you don't mind. I just want you to know that I'm glad you & my brother are still going together.
 I hope you two will always stay together.
 You're the cutest,
 nicest girl
 Rick has ever loved. May all your

ENTHUSIASM REVOLVES

The climax of the dance occurred at 10:00. Miss Denise Morrow, a sophomore, was crowned queen. She was escorted by Kirk Fisher.

The retiring queen was Miss Claudia Stogsdill, escorted by Larry Sharp.

AROUND TIGER REVOLUTION

This year two trophies were awarded. These were the coveted All-School Trophy and the Sportsmanship Trophy, the first being awarded to the senior class and the latter to the class of 1972. Class presidents, Kirk Fisher and Joe Haven, accepted the trophies. The All-School Trophy was based on the following categories: ticket sales, skits, spirit stick, and floats. The Sportsmanship Trophy was based on class participation in the preceding areas and overall sportsmanship.

CHORUS PRESENTS "NOW"

The DCHS Chorus presented a one act musical, "NOW," on November 20 and 21, 1970. The musical was about the youth asking questions about the world and problems which the youth are facing today. This is also the theme of the 1971 "El Tigre"

MUSIC AT CHRISTMAS

On December 19, 1970, the combined Junior and Senior High Choruses and the Senior High Band presented "Music at Christmas." "Music at Christmas" was composed of both the traditional and the modern Christmas Carols. This year the audience was invited to sing along with the choruses.

The Senior High Chorus (top) is performing "Silver Bells." The Band (bottom) is playing Overture from "Tommy."

DUPO QUARTERBACK CLUB SPONSORS CARNIVAL

On January 30, the annual Winter Carnival was sponsored by the Dupo Quarterback Club. Activities included games, booths, sponge throw (at teachers), pitching machine and concessions. A chicken and dumpling supper was served and later in the evening a dance was held. Proceeds from the event are used for athletic equipment for the four main varsity sports.

Students (upper left) are dancing and listening to the music provided by a local band. Darby Boland (left) is one of the members of the Image. Members of the Quarterback Club (middle right) are working in the booths. The younger students (bottom) also enjoyed the various activities.

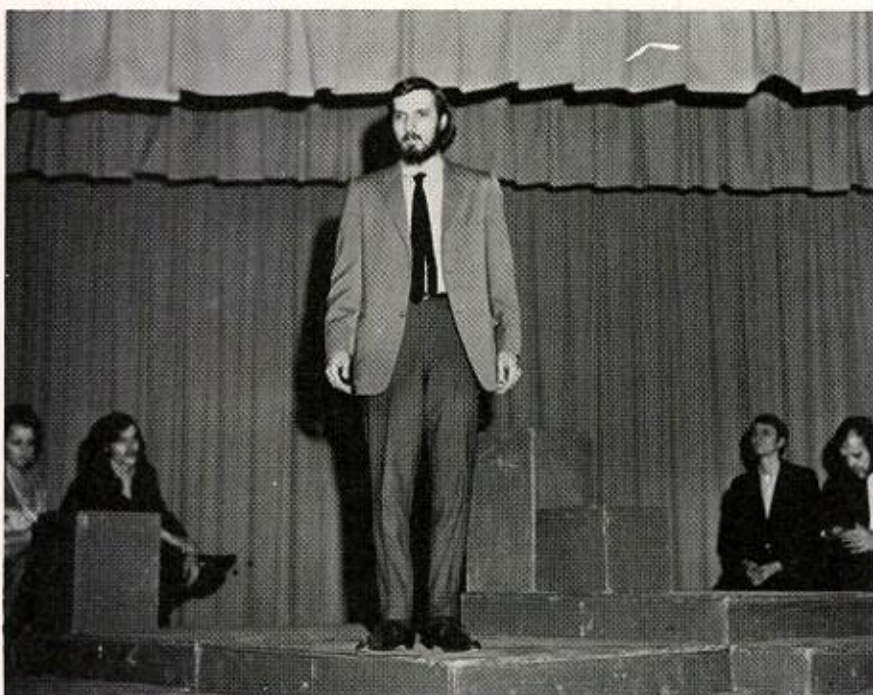

S.I.U. PRESENTS "SPOON RIVER ANTHOLOGY"

The S.I.U. players from Carbondale gave a vivid portrayal of Edgar Lee Masters' "Spoon River Anthology." "Spoon River Anthology" is a series of short poems told by inhabitants of Spoon River cemetery, Spoon River, Illinois. The inhabitants of the cemetery range from young lovers and preachers and teachers, to a poor, young, mixed-up man who lands in the wrong cemetery. These characters speak about their lives and the ways in which they died.

The poem itself is written in free form which when acted out gives a dramatic portrayal of both sides of life. The play was directed by Charles Zoeckler and sponsored by the Student Council.

IN MEMORIAM

A Special Tribute to Mr. A. A. Daugherty.
(Taken from the School Board Newsletter)

Mr. Daugherty, retired for two years, died on August 29 and was buried on September 1, 1970. The Board of Education, in his honor, cancelled school and ordered the flag to be flown at half staff.

The following is quoted from his pastor:

"... He was a man of noble character, wide culture, deep experience, eminent ability in his special calling, a successful and faithful school administrator. He was also a wise counselor behind closed doors, firm and courageous."

"... There is something finer in the man than anything he said. There is something nobler than anything he has done. But you do not really find the smallest part of the personal weight and importance of the man by rehearsing his accomplishments. The authority of his name is too great for words."

"... He has been a tower of strength, not only to his intimate associates, but to those of us who knew him on committees and boards. Never selfishly ambitious; always reasonable, sane temperate. He seemed to possess that exact balance between severity and good nature, and was eminently just and fair..."

He will be sadly missed.
